Detroit Free Press Charges Coughlin Misrepresented

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
DETROIT.—The Detroit Free Press, which was involved in Father Charles E. Coughlin's broadcast attack Sunday on the accuracy of Henry Ford's statement of sympathy with refugees, has declared that the priest "is giving still further evidence of his congenital inability to tell the truth." Father Coughlin had declared that the Free Press printed the statement to Rabbi Leo M. Franklin as a first person interview by Mr. Ford with the newspaper. The paper replied that it had at no time said that the statement was an interview, but only that it was an authorized statement.

Termed No. 1 Enemy

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit is America's anti-Semite No. 1, representing not the Catholic Church but some unknown group outside the church, declared Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, speaking at the Free Synagogue. He said Coughlinism is both "a national menace" and "the deadliest form of anti-Semitism in America today."

1,000 Picket WDAS

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
PHILADELPHIA.—Despite a demonstration by 1,000 pickets, officials of radio station WDAS indicated they will continue their ban on the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin until he submits his speeches in advance.

Press Communism Fight

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—Officers of the newly-formed American Jewish Federation to Combat Communism and Fascism will undertake a nationwide tour after the New Year to complete its organization, it was announced by John W. Smith, executive director. In a statement outlining the organization's plans, Milton Solomon, chairman, declared the Federation would "oppose communism and communistic leadership in every field of public activity, politics, labor and education."

Agrees With Coughlin

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEWARK, N. J.—Daniel B. Hoyt, president of Station WHBI, the only radio station in the metropolitan area to broadcast the addresses of Father Charles E. Coughlin, said he agreed with the priest's views. "A number of Jews have called the station and said that Father Coughlin should be taken off," Hoyt told the J. T. A. "I'm beginning to think that maybe there's a lot to some of the things that he's been saying. I'm heart and soul against Communists and Socialists, and I would run them all into the ocean." He added that "the Jewish press and other publishers are making too much of this and are taking it too seriously."

Fahey "Eccentric"

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
DUBLIN.—Prof. Denis Fahey, Jesuit college instructor whose allegations on Jews and Communism have been quoted by Father Coughlin in American radio broadcasts, is regarded in clerical circles here as an "eccentric." He was

Germans, Jews In Unity

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
HARTFORD.—The local unit of the Steuben Society, important American organization, and the local E'nai B'rith lodge have exchanged resolutions expressing condemnation of racial feeling. The Steuben Society declared that Americans of German extraction were out of sympathy with persecution of Jews in Germany and opposed anti-Semitism here.

Says Jews Can Aid Christians

By Religious News Service
CHICAGO.—A declaration that Jews "can offer distinctive help to the Christian Church in the next twenty-five years" was made by Professor Paul Minear of Garrett Biblical Institute at the closing session of the Inter-Seminary Institute of Human Relations held here under the auspices of the Chicago Round Table of Jews and Christians.

The assistance which Jews can render to the Church, Dr. Garrett said, lies in the fact that "they are more immune to fascism, more devoted to civil liberties and their preservation, less optimistic and more realistic in dealing with the brutalities of modern life, less inclined to the superficial varieties of Americanism and less confined to representing the interests of a single economic class."

Evacuate Jewish Children From Reich

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
HARWICH, England.—Two hundred Jewish boy and girl refugees from Germany landed from the British steamer Prague. They were the first contingent of 5,000 German-Jewish children to be trained in England for future work in overseas countries. Many of the group were from an orphanage near Berlin which was burned during the recent pogrom. Others came from the Hamburg region. Aged 10 to 12 years old, the children will stay in a temporary camp near Harwich until private homes have been found for them. Many offers to shelter them have already been received.

once reportedly rebuked by the Catholic primate of Ireland, Cardinal MacCrairy, for anti-Semitic activities. Prof. Fahey has refused to meet rabbis to discuss his views. In a letter to a rabbi, he averred he was not anti-Semitic, contending on the contrary that he was fond of Jews but objected to Jews and Judaism on religious grounds. He expressed the belief that communism was a realization of Jewish Messianic ideals. The Jesuit has urged, in a veiled manner, that the Irish Jews be deprived of citizenship. He frequently lectures, giving voice to views similar to those expressed in his book.

Says Coughlin Sources False

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
PARIS.—Pavel N. Miliukov, Foreign Minister in the first Russian revolutionary government, categorically denied that Jews had financed the Bolshevik revolution, as asserted in a book quoted by Father Coughlin, and declared that the first funds received from abroad by the Communists were furnished by Germany. Prof. Miliukov, in a statement to the J. T. A., denounced as "untrue and" (Continued on page 5)

Catholic College Press Group Says Bias Great Crime

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—Anti-Semitism was characterized as "a crime against true Americanism and democracy" in a resolution adopted by the Catholic College Press Association in behalf of 17,000 Catholic college students. "It is impossible for Americans who believe in God and liberty to remain indifferent to the surge of racial intolerance," the resolution said. Father John LaFarge, the writer, who has just returned from a six-month visit to Europe, told a Catholic dinner that the whole racist idea in Europe had no aim but to express spite against the Jews. He warned that American racism was a "pale but venomous elder cousin" of Nazi racism.

In Montreal, Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, declared in an address that Germany's anti-Semitic campaign was "a striking example of what a godless government will commit when it reverts to paganism."

Nearly 4,500 members of the German-American League for Culture, an anti-Nazi organization, dedicating their annual "German Day" program to "the ideals of freedom, progress and racial tolerance," cheered Thomas Mann and other speakers who assailed the Hitler government and adopted a resolution calling for an American "embargo against the Nazi regime."

Church Stand Explained

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—The weekly Catholic News quoted Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit, head of the Diocese in which Father Coughlin's church is located, as indicating that Father Coughlin had "permission" but not "approval" for his radio addresses. The Archbishop stated: "The permission of church authorities to publish an article or broadcast an address definitely does not imply approval of the contents of that article or address; much less does it make the article or address an authoritative statement of the Catholic position on the subject treated. The permission in question merely certifies that the article or address does not manifestly violate existing church regulations governing writings or utterances which are to be submitted for review."

Lord Balfour Estate Offered As Asylum For German-Jewish Refugee Children

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
EDINBURGH.—The Jewish Community this week expressed its gratitude at the offer of the late Lord Balfour's estate at Haddington as an asylum for German-Jewish refugee children made by Viscount Traprain, heir of the man who pledged Great Britain to facilitate establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine.

Speaking for the Jewish Community, Rabbi Salis Daiches declared: "This generous offer is an historic and symbolic link between the name Balfour and the Jewish people, for it was Traprain's uncle who gave his name to the now famous Balfour Declaration, a diplomatic utterance which held forth to the Jewish people of the world hope of a national home in Palestine."

The Balfour estate, "Whittingehame House," will accommodate

Give $25,000 For Anniversary

Special
PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—A gift of $25,000 by Mr. and Mrs. Lessing J. Rosenwald, representing $1,000 for each year of their married life, to the Jewish Child Care Council, was announced last week by Mr. Leo Heimerdinger, President of the Federation of Jewish Charities. In a letter to Mr. Heimerdinger, Mr. Rosenwald explained that he and Mrs. Rosenwald considered November 6 an important day in their lives and therefore desired "to celebrate it in a fitting manner." The Child Care Council is a constituent of the Federation of Jewish Charities.

Jews Join Protest On Duce Threats

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
TUNIS — Jewish residents of Sousse, Tunisian port city, joined several thousand Moslems in pro-French demonstrations. Headed by native notables and sheiks and preceded by French and Tunisian flags, the demonstrators paraded through the city's streets shouting "Long Live France! Long Live the Army! Long Live Tunisia!" The demonstrations were directed against recently voiced Italian claims to Tunisia and other French possessions.

Texas Theatres Give Day's Funds To Exile Relief

Special
SAN ANTONIO.—Benefit shows in 137 Interstate Theatres throughout Texas will be held Wednesday, Dec. 7 for the aid of suffering refugees of Hitler's Germany.

Gross proceeds of Wednesday will be turned over to the Joint Distribution Committee who will carry out the relief work to all refugees regardless of creed. Protestants, Catholics and Jews alike will benefit from these performances.

The plan for the statewide relief was perfected by Karl Hoblitzelle, president, and R. J. O'Donnell, vice-president of the Interstate Circuit. They secured aid from film distributors who will furnish their films free of the usual charge.

"These shows are our endeavor to give a practical expression for the relief of the oppressed in Germany and Austria, and it is our fervent hope that this will prove to be an inspiration to theatres throughout the United States to follow suit," declared Mr. Hoblitzelle.

Leaders of all faiths are lending their support in an effort to make this project a great success. Governor James Allred, together with newspapers, radio and magazines have generously given their support in publicizing this benefit show.

Hadassah To Celebrate Miss Szold's Birthday

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—Hadassah announced plans for a nationwide celebration of the 78th birthday of Miss Henrietta Szold, American-born founder of the organization who is now in Jerusalem directing the Youth Aliyah movement, on Dec. 21. A birthday gift for maintenance and education of refugee children in Palestine will be sent to Miss Szold on that date.

A "one-dish dinner" of Hadassah's 75,000 members has been set for Dec. 21, the 78th birthday of Miss Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah. The estimated $25,000 which is expected thus to be raised will be sent to Miss Szold in Jerusalem as a "birthday present" to maintain and re-educate children arriving in Palestine.

Seek Homes For 1,000 Jewish Children

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—A meeting of the Joint Home-Finding Committee for Jewish Foster Children was held in connection with the drive of the committee to find 1,000 foster mothers for Jewish children. Since its formation last March the committee has found more than 300 foster homes.

College Prexy Charges Nazi Plan In Exchange

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—A "thinly veiled effort at propaganda" by the German Government in establishing the German University Service here, for exchange of students with the United States was charged by Acting President Dr. Nelson P. Mead of City College in a letter to the New York Times.

Chicago Man Seen In Huge Colony Project

Plan Envisages Self-Supporting Arrangement

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

THE HAGUE.—A committee of the International Jewish Colonization Society conferred with Lewis J. Ruskin, of Chicago, and worked out plans to co-ordinate projects for the evacuation and settlement of the entire German-Jewish population. The plans, which include establishment in every country of a branch of the society, envisage projects requiring expenditure of some $2,000,000,000. The Wolf group has already raised approximately $2,200,000 of this sum. Wolf donated $550,000 in founding the society.

(Ruskin is president of the Fort Hopkins Drug Store Company, Inc., a chain of 45 retail drug stores with headquarters in Chicago and operating in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Indiana. He is 35 years old and unmarried. He has not been identified with Jewish activities.)

Wolf Sees Taylor

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

LONDON.—American Vice-Chairman Myron C. Taylor, George Rublee and Robert Pell, assistant director, conferred at length with Daniel Wolf, Netherlands Jewish banker and philanthropist who recently founded the International Jewish Colonization Society with the aim of co-ordinating projects for the evacuation and resettlement of German Jewry. Wolf told the J. T. A. his organization proposed to establish a trust foundation to finance the colonization and settlement of any suitable territories which may be available. He said the foundation would be administered by a committee of 50 distinguished Jews and non-Jews of all countries.

Wolf's plans envisage the issuance of bonds, proceeds of which will be used to finance the foundation, with the entire project eventually becoming self-supporting and refunding the original capital. The banker stressed the predominance of Palestine in the scheme and pointed out that other territorial settlements would be complementary to the Palestine work. He also conferred with a number of Jewish and non-Jewish personalities and then left for Paris to continue discussions.

ceived the news of the Hague conference of the Wolf organization with surprise, since they had not been invited nor were they represented. While welcoming any project which aims to aid the refugees on a large scale, the Joint Distribution Committee was understood to have indicated to Wolf that American Jewish contributions for relief and colonization would be made through American Jewish organizations and co-ordination of American activities with the new organization would depend largely on definite plans that may be produced by it.

Perkins Maps Plans

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins was reported to be studying a plan for creation of a giant international relief corporation to resettle the Jewish youth of European persecution lands and support the aged. The evacuation plan was prepared by a Labor Department official and has not yet been acted upon by Secretary Perkins. It contemplates systematic removal of young Jews from Central and Eastern Europe to available lands after they have received training for agricultural pursuits.

The United States and Great Britain would finance the scheme with the co-operation of individuals in many countries. Another part of the plan contemplates the strengthening of the moderate elements in Central Europe so that the Jews who remain will receive minority rights and protection. At the same time anti-Semitism would be treated at its source by putting the active disapproval of the world before the people instead of before their governments.

Italian Lodge Here Approves Duce's Stand

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

MT. VERNON, N. Y.—In a stormy four-hour concluding session of their state-wide convention, delegates of the Sons of Italy Grand Lodge, Inc., shouted down resolutions condemning persecution of Jews in Italy and took their only action on this question by approving the annual message of the newly-re-elected Grand Master Samuel Modica, which contained a mildly disapproving reference to persecution of Jews in general.

In the heated debate on these resolutions, some delegates of this important Italo-American fraternal organization, which has from 30,000 to 40,000 members—meeting in the building of the Italian Civic Association which was formerly for 40 years a synagogue—said that persecution of Jews was justified on the ground that they were exploiters, that they had opposed Italy in the Ethiopian war and that they were "killing" Arabs in Palestine.

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

ISTANBUL.—Ending his first visit to Turkey since the World War, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the Jewish Agency, left for London. He had been originally expected to visit Palestine before returning to London for the forthcoming British-Arab-Jewish conferences on the political future of the Holy Land.

Children Hold Jewish Future In Hands—Adler

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—Survival of the Jewish faith depends "upon the little children in the schools," Dr. Cyrus Adler said in a letter to Harry H. Liebovitz, president of the Jewish Education Association, accepting sponsorship of the Chanukah Dinner of the Association on Dec. 18. "We cannot reiterate too often the thought that, if the Jewish religion is to be kept alive, as it surely will be, the victory depends, as it always has, upon the little children in the schools," Dr. Adler wrote.

"The Jewish people without religion, without faith, without knowledge, are not worthy of the great (Continued on page 5)

POST TO RAISE FUND TO SAVE A CHILD

Chanukah Gifts Sought To Help Youth Aliyah

How much do you need the Chanukah gifts and money you will receive this year?

You could get along without them, couldn't you? It wouldn't make much difference if the loving remembrances of your friends and aunts and uncles were turned over to those to whom the money meant the difference between life and death.

This Chanukah you and hundreds of others like you will be happy, healthy and secure. You will receive gifts you could do without; your children will receive money they don't particularly need.

In Germany, Austria, Italy and other spots in Europe where the blight of the dictators is drawing the noose tighter with greater and greater rapidity, making the lives of the Jews a matter of weeks and days before their final extinction, Chanukah will be a time without rejoicing. In America we have everything; they have nothing.

The Jewish Post believes Indianapolis and in Indiana Jewry can do something about it, that in our small way this Chanukah we can help save the lives of one or more Jewish children by turning the money that we would normally give for gifts to our friends and relatives and what we receive from others over to this urgent cause.

The Jewish Post announces the launching of a "Save-a-Child" campaign, and the beginning of voluntary subscriptions to be turned over to the Youth Aliyah which is saving the lives of Jewish children in Europe by removing them to Palestine and training them to begin their lives anew.

If you have relatives or friends that you want to remember on this Chanukah, mail your gifts to The Jewish Post, giving your name and the names of the persons to be honored. Your name and theirs will be printed. If you wish to give to this fund without recipient, you may do so also. No matter how little or how much you want to give, your contribution will be gratefully received. There will be no solicitation; all contributions are to be voluntary.

The beginning of Chanukah, Dec. 18, is just two weeks away. The Jewish Post has set as its goal the saving of at least one child. It takes $360 to provide for the removal and training of a child, and we believe that this amount can be raised.

BOARD MEETING SET

Senior Hadassah will hold a regular board meeting at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, Dec. 13, in Kirshbaum Center. All chairmen and co-chairmen are urged to attend.

Beth El Chanukah Dinner Set Dec. 18

The traditional annual Chanukah dinner and entertainment at Beth-El Zedeck congregation will take place at 6 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 18, in the vestry rooms. The dinner is to be in banquet style, prepared and catered by the Sisterhood under the direction of Mrs. Dave Hollander and her committee. The program is being arranged by the congregation committee, headed by Jerome J. Wachter and Herman Chalfie, who will be in charge of entertainment. The program will include a candle-lighting ceremony by Cantor Glass and the choir and Chanukah songs will be featured. A one-act comedy will be presented under the direction of Sol Blumenthal. In the cast are Mr. Blumenthal, Bernard Bloom, Bob Jaeger and Constance Present. The Chanukah man will distribute gifts in characteristic Chanukah style. Reservations should be made at once at the Temple, Ta. 5196.

Raskin To Speak, Exhibit Paintings Center Dec. 18-22

Saul Raskin, well-known Jewish artist, who will exhibit his water colors, oil paintings and etchings of Jewish life in Kirshbaum Center Dec. 18 to 22, will address a joint meeting of the Jewish Community Center Association, the Council of Jewish Women and Hadassah at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 20, in the Center. His subject will be Jewish art.

Mr. Raskin's paintings have been displayed in leading art museums in the country, including the Metropolitan Museum, the Brooklyn Museum, Newark Museum and the Congressional Library. He has visited Palestine many times, the last visit being in the summer of 1937, and is the author of "Palestine in Word and Picture."

Mrs. Elias Charry will talk on the "Significance of Chanukah" and Mrs. Jacob Weiss will read the opening prayer. Presiding will be Mrs. Sultan Cohen. At the tea which will follow Mrs. J. A. Goodman, Mrs. Louis Wolf, Mrs. Samuel Hahn and Miss Emma Glemann will pour.

Both the meeting and the exhibit are open to the public without charge.

Communal Building Clubs To Celebrate Chanukah

Freedom Of The Press
Governor Hits Persecution

To The Editor

I join with civilized people the world over in extending to the Jewish people during these hours of deep sorrow my utmost sympathy. The persecution of the Jews is an outrage against which people of all faiths and beliefs should protest.

The Jewish people have contributed to our daily lives much that is fine and beautiful, and many of the marvels of modern medical and industrial science have been created by Jewish genius. There is no phase of life today that has not been benefited in some way by the inventive ability, skill and talent of Jews.

The least we can do in America is to extend our hospitality and friendship to those who have escaped from the errors abroad and offer our prayers for the oppressed.

Sincerely yours,
M. Clifford Townsend.

INDIANA FUR CO.

For that elegant holiday look and warm comfy feeling that makes you want to shout with joy, buy a new fur wrap at the INDIANA FUR CO. where luxurious silver fox capes nestle close to expensive looking minks (but not really so expensive to buy) and where for practically every day wear you'll find beautifully designed and hard wearing Persian lambs and Alaskan and Hudson seals. Whatever your fur coat problem is this winter the INDIANA FUR CO. can solve it. And when you find that lovely and durable something there that brings out the real "you" remember "I told you so!"

HILLMAN'S

An exquisite, shimmering evening gown that catches every eye, a smart afternoon dress and a neatly tailored something that's exclusively different from anything anybody else is wearing and you're ready to go places for the holiday week-ends. At HILLMAN'S you'll find a selection of clothes that will make you tingle with excitement, like a little girl, choosing her first party dress. And you can always be sure the HILLMAN label means exclusiveness. When the individual miss steps forth from HILLMAN'S she is as striking a picture as the newest Vogue cover and she feels like a million. So bring on the cameras, candid or otherwise, for you are at your charming best when you've selected your clothes at HILLMAN'S.

WANT GAMES

Achad Ha-am's basketball team, which last week defeated the Tabernacle Presbyterians, would like to schedule games with strong city quintets. Information may be obtained from Mike Rubinstein, Dr. 0739 between 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. or from Martin Bottigheimer, 1432 Union.

Phil LaFollette Kirshbaum Forum Speaker Sunday

Political leaders in Indiana and ordinary laymen will have an equal opportunity to question Governor Phil LaFollette of Wisconsin on the aims and platform of his newly launched "third party," the National Progressives of America, at 8:30 p. m., Sunday, Dec. 11, when he speaks at the second of the season's series of the Indianapolis Open Forum. His talk will be titled "A Challenge."

Son of the late Senator Robert LaFollette, who was famous as a progressive and insurgent, and brother of "Young Bob," the present Senator from Wisconsin, Phil LaFollette at 41 is America's youngest Governor. Like his famous father whom he is said to resemble both in appearance and mannerisms, Phil LaFollette is regarded a hard fighter for his ideals.

Because of Governor LaFollette's study of the fascist methods in Germany and Italy, it was felt by some political commentators that there might be elements of fascism in the National Progressive party's emblem which is a black cross on a white ground surrounded by a red circle and a dark blue background. Phil LaFollette explained it as the mark the voter makes on his ballot.

Girls To Give Volley Ball Exhibition

PEOPLE AND PLACES

By SEYMOUR PINKUS

It's the season of sniffs and sniffles and many are those I've seen sporting a red proboscis and watery glimmers. So bundle up kiddies, huddle near the fire, and let's dish the weekly dirt.

Speaking of fires, our own Mildren Cohen had an accident last Sunday afternoon when she started to light the stove at her home. Flames jumped at her, singeing her hair, eyelashes and eyebrows. It sure is lucky that it wasn't more serious.

From Mischa Slatkin, cellist with the Indianapolis Symphony, comes an incident that happened not so long ago. While appearing in Radio City, New York, Mischa learned that there was a private elevator to the studios for artists and another for visitors. One day Jascha Heifetz, world famed violinist walked up to the private elevator and the elevator boy, not recognizing him, asked who he was. Of course the answer was "Heifetz". The boy said, "I'm sorry sir, but this elevator is for artists only," to which the artist replied, "I'm Heifetz, Heifetz, Heifetz." The elevator boy then said, "I don't care if you're Rubinoff, you can't get on this elevator!" What price glory?

Many happy returns to Mr. and Mrs. D. Lipp who celebrated their twelfth wedding anniversary Wednesday, Nov. 30. Only thirty-eight more years and we'll write about your Golden Wedding day!

The Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity at Indiana U. held its pledge formal last Saturday night at the chapter house, and believe you me it was a humdinger. The house was decorated in a musical mode with black notes, bars, measures, sharps and flats all over the walls. In the lounge room was a fountain, constantly flowing to the delight of all. We saw Rosalie Levinson with Jerry Savesky of Marion, Lenore Cohen, Sid Scheeter of Ft. Wayne, Natalie Stolkin, Dorothy Masursky and Rosalyn Zinn, also of Fort Wayne, Bernie Bloom with Rosalie Goodman of Terre Haute, Sara Schuchman and Leo Miller, Seymour Weiss of South Bend, who by the way is a member of I. U.'s wrestling team, Marvin Sablosky, Tiny Strauss with popular Gerre Galanter of Louisville, Estelle Levin, Sammy Smulyan, Johanna Lovinger, Shirley Shane, and many more. Members of the colored band presented a floor show and were joined by Bernie Bloom, who with the aid of Tiny Strauss, who held him up, did a Russian Ka-Zat-ski.

Hear Ye, Hear Ye, make way for the big dance Sunday night, Dec. 25, to be given by the Beth El Youth group. There'll be entertainment, refreshments, and an amateur contest. And here's the big news, eat ees free!

Many prominent persons attended the B'nai B'rith dinner dance last Sunday night at the Claypool. After the beautiful ritual we spied people dancing, some sitting and some talking. There was Rufus Isaacs, representing the trustees, Doug Brown, Josh Fineberg, with Freddie Goodman, Sam Mantel and his wife, Jack Kammins, and he deserves oodles of orchids as chairman of the membership committee which brought in 118 new members, Rabbi and Mrs. Goldblatt, Rabbi Feuerlicht, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Fink, Charlie Feibleman with Nettie Marie Dulberger, Gus Domont, Dr. Arnold and Bess Epstein.

Martin Katz of Michigan City has given Alberta Shalansky a Phi Beta Delta neck chain with the fraternity's crest set on a mother of pearl background. Sincerely, Martin, does that chain carry the same significance as your frat pin?

A friend of ours has opened a place called "Thee" Nut House at 35th near College and we'd like some of our readers to try some of his home made candies, fudge and assorted nuts which are quite the utsnay.

The other night we went to see Gypsy Rose Lee at the Indiana and noticed another member of our tribe, Abe Stein, sitting near us. Gypsy Rose really has talent, the show is fine, but for some unknown reason the audience literally sat on its hands. Were they all to numb to move?

Speaking of Miss Lee, we are reminded of the time she went into the movies and they changed her name to Louise Hovick. D'ya think it might have been a good idea to have monickered her "Seymour-Seymour?" Adios.

Arrange First "Pop" Concert Next Sunday

The most popular of the activities of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Fabien Sevitzky—their regular series of Sunday afternoon popular priced, popularly programmed concerts—will commence next Sunday, Dec. 11, at 3 p. m. in the Murat theater. For the season's first popular concert Mr. Sevitzky and the orchestra will present as soloist Ray Lev, brilliant young American pianist, in her first appearance in Indianapolis. She will play the Tchaikowsky Piano Concerto in B Flat Minor.

Other numbers on the program, arranged to suit all musical tastes, will be Schubert's Unfinished Symphony (No. 8 in B Minor); the ov-

Services At Beth El To Honor Miss Szold

Honoring the birthday of Henrietta Szold, Hadassah will conduct Sabbath services at Beth El Zedek Temple Friday evening, Dec. 23. Mrs. Jacob Weiss will speak on "Henrietta Szold" and Dorothy Forman will read from the scriptures. The closing prayer will be given by Mrs. Leon Berger. Tea will be served in the vestry rooms following the services.

Sisterhood, School P. T. A. Of Temple In Joint Meeting

Monday, Dec. 12, at 2:15 p. m., the Temple Sisterhood and the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Religious School will hold a joint meeting at the Temple at Delaware and 10th Sts., devoted to the observance of Chanukah. The program will largely be given over to the children of the Religious School.

The opening prayer will be read by Mrs. Louis Segar and Dr. Maurice Goldblatt will give a short talk on the observance of Chanukah. The children of the Religious School will take part in a Chanukah Candle Lighting Service and there will be selections by the Choral Group with Piano accompaniment by Ann Kahn. Bernard Berger will recite an original poem. There will be community singing under the direction of Mrs. I. E. Solomon. Mrs. Louis Markun is program chairman for the meeting. Mrs. Arthur Fairbanks will preside and a tea will follow in the vestry room.

The meeting is open to the public.

Hillel Musical Set For This Thursday

Special
BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—The long-awaited Jewish musical comedy, "So Let 'Em Foreclose", will be presented by the Hillel Players Thursday evening, Dec. 15, in the Music Auditorium here. Jeanne Sacks of Indianapolis and Matthew Kane of Revere, Mass., head the cast. The public is invited.

Luncheon Monday

The Ladies Auxiliary of the United Hebrew Congregation will meet for a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Monday, Dec. 12, in the schul. Newly elected officers will be installed.

SKATING PARTY SET

Final plans have been outlined for the Phi Delta Gamma Fraternity Skating Party at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 14, at the Riverside Skating Rink. Admission will be 25c and is open to the public.

TOSCANINI IN BENEFIT

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEWARK, N. J.—Arturo Toscanini's first concert with the NBC Symphony Orchestra outside New York will, characteristically, be a benefit performance for an interfaith cause. He has agreed to appear at the Mosque Theatre here on Dec. 13 under the auspices of the Griffith Music Foundation for the benefit of the Essex County Conference of Catholics, Jews and Protestants, whose president is Rabbi Marius Ranson of East Orange.

Youth Aliyah Is Theme Of Joint Meeting

Dedicating its annual joint Chanukah meeting to Youth Aliyah Senior and Junior Hadassah will hear Miss Pearl Franklin of Chicago speak on "Wherein Lies Our Hope" at 2 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 11, in Kirshbaum Center. Mrs. Harry Cohen will give the opening prayer and a musical program will be presented by Joe Albert violinist, and Mrs. A. Goldstein, pianist. The lighting of the Chanukah candles will be in charge of Freda Brill. At the tea which will follow Mrs. Emma Komminers and Mrs. Harold Gubin will pour.

Old Home Honors New, Prospective Members Dec. 14

The Joseph and Anna Borinstein Home For The Aged will receive from 2 to 5 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 14, at the home of Mrs. L. L. Goodman, Kessler Blvd., in honor of new and prospective members.

Special guests will be German refugee women.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Max Kaplan, will include vocal selections by Kathryn Bowlby, accompanied by Mrs. Claire McTurnan. The harp soloist will be Joan Miller. Hostesses will be Mrs. M. Tavel, Mrs. H. Goldberg, Mrs. William Schloss, Mrs. Art Rose, Mrs. Louis Sagalowsky, Mrs. Herman Chalfie, Mrs. Ben Sagalowsky, Mrs. Lou Goulden, Mrs. M. Finkelstein, Mrs. D. QUESTION: Wonder just how much truth there is to the wind-blown rumor that Radio Priest Coughlin would welcome being unfrocked. . . . To advance his political ambish. . . .

BOOK REVIEW

A Book that strips your emotions to tatters
Is Peter Mendelssohn's "All That Matters."

TEMPERANCE NOTE: Hitler has won the admiration of the Women's Christian Temperance Union for his abstinence from liquor if not from persecution. . . . Abstinence and pogroms somehow don't go well together. . . . People could understand it better if the neo-Haman at least had the excuse of being in his cups when he wields the butcher's knife. . . .

NUDITY NOTE: By refusing to take the testimony of the noted Gypsy Rose (Strip-Tease) Lee, the Dies committee left itself wide open to the charge that it is not, after all, interested in getting at the naked truth. . . .

RELIGIOUS NOTE: Radio Station WMCA got hundreds of telephone calls reviling it in unprintable language for barring the latest Coughlin cackle. . . . The two employees who handled all the calls are Irish Catholics. . . .

OPPORTUNITY NOTE: A Fascist editor-book-seller named Seward Collins believes in making hay while the sun shines. . . . When the newspapers made a to-do about that anti-Semitic book quoted by Coughlin, Prof. Denis Fahey's "The Mystical Body of Christ in the Modern World," he called up the American Jewish Committee, the Anti-Nazi League and other organizations and offered them copies at several bucks each. . . . P. S.—The Anti-Nazi League bought a couple of copies. . . .

BERLIN TALE: This is being told in sign language (and in the dark at that) along the Kurfuerstendamm. . . . A traveling salesman for a German commercial firm which had been doing poorly was sitting at his desk, writing. . . . "And why," his employer angrily asked him, "aren't you out getting business instead of sitting here scribbling?" . . . "I'm writing to Herr Hitler," the salesman retorted, "telling him that if he wants any more territory he can have mine." . . .

MISH-MASH: Brains of the newly-formed Provisional Council Against Anti-Semitism is James Waterman Wise, son of S. S. W. . . . Quakers To See Hitler

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
PHILADELPHIA—A three-man Quaker delegation was to arrive in Germany this week "to observe and bring back some idea how we could help to alleviate conditions there" regarding the refugee problem, the American Friends Service Committee announced here. The Philadelphia Record, which spoke to a member of the delegation by radio telephone on the Queen Mary, said the group hopes "to see Chancellor Hitler himself."

Factory to Make Bullet Resisting Bricks Built

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
JERUSALEM.—Construction of a factory to manufacture recently-invented bullet-proof bricks was launched this week by a group of workers who pushed the frontiers of Jewish settlement into Arab-controlled northern Palestine. A fortified labor camp was established by the workers called Mishmar Gebulim (Guardian of the Borders). They moved northward from the Kiriat Chaim colony under the direction of a party of Jewish inventors, most of whom are from Scandinavia. The camp marks the sixth outlying point settled by Jews in the past fortnight.

HOLLYWOOD

By HELEN ZIGMOND

HOLLYWOOD.—To clarify the many rumors concerning the forthcoming Chaplin film, the facts are: Chaplin is pledged to contribute one picture to the 1939 schedule at United Artists. Although the story is announced officially as, "on a topical subject," the only yarn he has thus far discussed concerns a little Jewish fellow who suddenly finds himself mistaken for a dictator whom he strongly resembles. Identification of place and people will be left to your imagination. Since the starting date is set for January 1st, one supposes that this is the story he will make.

Perhaps readers have confused the Chaplin film with the one planned by the Warners . . . later is titled, "Concentration Camp," and if produced will star John Garfield.

The dizzy daffy Ritzes proceed to drive their public "mishuga" with five different endings to "Musketeers". It will be previewed five times . . . and five separate audiences will choose the best fade-out. Oy! moans Zanuck. What a headache has my Overhead.

Happy as a lark, Luise Rainer fairly sang her way out of court after receiving her final citizenship papers. In true democratic spirit, packed in with 200 applicants, she took her oath . . . on one side of her sat a Greek wrestler. Her birthplace, she said was Esselberg, Germany, 1910.

That clever pretty midget . . . Yvonne Moray . . . whom you'll see in "Wizard of Oz" is a Syrian Jewess . . . we are told.

The greatest Ritz of them all (amateur class) is Papa Max, the instigator who started the trio on the looney path to stardom. Pops will satisfy a lifelong yearning. . . . will graduate from kitchen clown to put on real grease paint in "The Gorilla," the next Ritz reeler.

Items and Incidents: Martha Raye's turkey was shared by her grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Kleinberg of Great Falls, Montana. At the expiration of her contract early in 1939, Joan Blondell will have completed eight years of cinemacting on the Warner lot, including two suspensions and two babies. As expected, an epidemic of La-Marrish tresses has hit the colony . . . many of the girls are dyeing. We hear Eddie Cantor's best show is "off the air" . . . he keeps his audience laughing long after the "mike" is cut off.

The Editor's Chair—

I know it is dirty pool, but I believe I can be excused for reminding myself of Father Coughlin's discomfiture whenever he thinks about Judge Rutherford.

If you ever want to see a hullabaloo, then you should see the hair-tearing and scratching when Judge Rutherford goes on the air.

I can sympathize with the Catholics because as a Jew I know how it feels when Father Coughlin goes on the air.

But in comparison any radio station manager will tell you that Jews are like cherubs when compared to those who protest against Judge Rutherford. Days before Rutherford goes on the air with his vile anti-Catholic accusations the station is deluged with letters, telephone calls, threats. You would almost think that the shoe fits.

Then Rutherford goes on the air. He charges and purports to prove by factual argument that the Catholics seek to rule the world, undermining all civilization in their march to power. Unlike Coughlin he does not pat his opponent on the back with one hand and stab him in the heart with the other. He just stabs. I must say that given the choice of Rutherford or Coughlin I would choose neither.

I might suggest to the powers that be that Judge Rutherford follow Father Coughlin, on the air. Let the two fight it out to the finish. It is true that Catholics have been able to keep Rutherford off the air from most important stations. From the Bishop of the Diocese to the outstanding business man and the ordinary Catholic church-goer, the station receives more complaints than there are listeners in that given territory.

Isn't Father Coughlin for free speech? I think it behooves Father Coughlin to issue a statement against the Catholic pressure which has practically checked the tongue of Judge Rutherford. Coughlin has not issued such a statement and this proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that he is against free speech.

Seriously there is no comparison between the attitude to Coughlin and Rutherford. Regardless of what Father Coughlin says or does, Jews will never condone Judge Rutherford. As I have done in the past and whenever I can in the future, I will fight against Rutherford.

On July 17, 1935, I received a letter from The Golden Age, of Brooklyn, which began, "Despite your Jewish name we apprehend that you are a Jesuit for it is inconceivable that an intelligent Hebrew could pen such a venomous and unjust editorial as appears on page 4 of your issue of June 28, 1935, entitled, 'Scurrilous Attack on Catholics'."

The letter continues: "Every Catholic paper in the United States has boasted that the NRA program originated with the Pope and that Mr. Roosevelt adopted it at the instance of the Pope. . . Many of the official family of the President are Roman Catholics and are agents of the Roman Catholic hierarchy. If the people should now be informed that the Roman Catholic

A Ray Of Hope

FOR 2,000 years the Jewish problem has been in the hands of non-Jews. For most of this time, in fact up until the very near present, the problem posed itself from the standpoint of suppressing the Jew and his freedom.

But now the standpoint has changed. The non-Jew, outside of the fascists of course, is troubled with helping the Jew. Whereas heretofore the Jew in his limited way looked out for the Jew, and tried to take care of his brethren in other lands, now the non-Jew with his great resources and power must find a way out for the downtrodden Jews of Europe.

This change is comforting, despite the fact that it was forced on the non-Jew. Whereas Great Britain up until the past few months could consider her Palestine problem in relation to the demands of the Arabs, she now must give first importance to the Jewish question. In this paper's opinion this change will mean a new wave of immigration to Palestine, limited more by actual absorptive capacity than by any set figure.

The new world outlook by such powers as France, England and the United States will mean also a firm stand against Poland's repeated attempts to secure emigration facilities for her 3,000,000 Jews. Other Central European Powers who have thought that they could find in an imitation of Germany a possibility for robbing or suppressing their Jews, will be automatically checked by the aggressive Jewish policy of the great powers.

Admittedly the Jewish problem in its present bitter state will never be solved until the problem of Nazism and Fascism is solved. But certainly an understanding and the assumption of the responsibility for the downtrodden Jews is a step forward.

What the new approach to the Jewish problem will mean for the future is problematical. But it is safe to assume that following the solution to the present unbearable difficulties, the problem will once more be pushed back into the hands of the Jewries of those more fortunate nations such as our own, Great Britain, and France. However a precedent has been set. If only as an ameliorating and a comforting factor in the present chaos, the new understanding should be marked and hailed.

Generosity of Cincinnati's Jews

THAT Cincinnati in its annual Jewish Welfare Fund drive would raise its predetermined quota was more or less expected, despite the fact that the goal was raised to a new all-time high. The 23,000 Jews of the Queen City were asked to contribute $231,975 for local, national and international Jewish causes and relief.

When the final report on the drive was made, Cincinnati, whose Jewish community is the flower of the United States, had subscribed more than its goal, had raised $45,000 in excess of its goal.

Is this munificence impressive? Definitely so. Louisville, Ky., raised $55,000 last year and Indianapolis raised $65,000. Of course Cincinnati's Jewish community is more than twice as large as that of either Louisville or Indianapolis, but in Cincinnati it is not alone a question of size. For whereas Cincinnati in this drive gave $12.00 per capita, that is $12.00 for every man, woman and child, Indianapolis contributed approximately $7.00 per capita and Louisville only $6.00 per capita. Of course there is another factor, the timeliness from a negative standpoint of the Cincinnati drive, but even this cannot detract from the splendid generosity of Cincinnati Jewry.

Current Comment

The Jewish Advocate of Boston Tells Of An Interesting Incident.—This is a true story. It happened on one of the downtown Boston streets the other day, and has quite a lesson.

A group of idle passersby had stopped casually to watch a workman, seated in the window of a shop perform some intricate and highly technical operation. There were several men in the show window, which had been outfitted as a workshop. They were highly skilled and their dexterous work seemed to draw a large audience on the sidewalk.

Within the shop, and apparently the owner, was a man engaged in waiting on customers, or performing other duties. He didn't have any labels on him, but there was no mistaking the fact that he was Jewish.

The crowd at the window watched the workmen admiringly when suddenly there came an explosive comment from one of the group. "Look at those white men in there working their heads off for that Jew."

Quick as a flash another man in the crowd turned around, addressed himself to the indignant one, and retorted:

"Yes, and if not for that Jew those men would probably be out of a job, and without any money to support their families."

The crowd nodded its approval and the first speaker slunk away.

We tell the story for two reasons. First, because it shows clearly how the best answer to anti-Semitism is truth and immediate public reply. We Jews have nothing to be ashamed of when others taunt us. When our motives are questioned, when we are ridiculed, oppressed, denied rights, the thing for us to do is stand up vigorously in self-defense with bold truth, without fear. The Jew-hater's charges will wither under this direct retort, and we will earn the esteem and respect of lovers of fair play.

The second reason why we tell the story is because the man who answered back so promptly was a member of the Jewish Advocate staff.

Dr. A. A. Robach Writes A Note To The United Press.—The other day I read a dispatch from Berlin which purported to give the reaction of the Nazi press to the nationwide protests in this country against Nazi brutality. The report ended with a reference to an alleged anti-Semitic statement by Benjamin Franklin. Since this worse than apocryphal utterance is known to be in the same class as the Protocols of the Elders of Zion and has been declared to be a brazen falsehood by the Benjamin Franklin Society and by the librarian whose name was mentioned by the libel disseminators, as knowing something about it, the report should have at least made some comment as to the authenticity of the Franklin expression. Otherwise, millions of readers might be under the impression that Franklin was anti-Semitic; whereas the facts are that in Benjamin Franklin the Jews had a staunch and influential friend.

Under other circumstances, this omission on the part of your correspondent might not be consequential, but with the odds against the Jews, and the Nazi propaganda at its height, a misunderstanding of the sort is apt to work incalculable mischief even in the United States.

Albert Einstein Confesses.—Being a lover of freedom, when the revolution came in Germany, I looked to the universities to defend it, knowing that they had always boasted of their devotion to the cause of truth; but, no, the universities immediately were silenced. Then I looked to the great editors of the newspapers whose flaming editorials in days gone by had proclaimed their love of freedom; but they, like the universities, were silenced in a few short weeks. Then I looked to the individual writers, who, as literary guides of Germany, had written much and often concerning the place of freedom in modern life; but they, too, were mute. Only the Church stood squarely across the path of Hitler's campaign for suppressing truth. I never had any special interest in the Church before, but now I feel a great affection and admiration because the Church alone has had the courage and persistence to stand for intellectual truth and moral freedom. I am forced to confess that what I once despised I now praise unreservedly.

Rabbi Wise Explains Duty,

Need of J. D. C.

November 29, 1938

To The Editor

Mr. Gabriel Cohen,

Now that the first impact of the new Nazi outburst has been faced, I want to tell you just what the Joint Distribution Committee is doing and plans to do. The Joint Distribution Committee must account for by far the largest share of responsibility here and abroad.

The loss of property, earning ability, community organization, religious ministrations and social service to German Jews is practically complete. The community of Israel in Germany, as such, is swept away. Orphans cry bare-footed on the cold streets. Old people, thrown out of old folks' homes, grope in alleys; families are separated and women huddle in fright with whimpering children while waiting some news of men in jail and concentration camps.

On a broken, frightened and bulled people a fine is levied of approximately $600.00 for each man, woman and child. I shudder at the question of how it can be paid. Their houses are taken away. They are refused food, milk or fuel. They are our brethren.

What is our plan?

First, not one cent for tribute from us. The $400,000,000 fine levied by the Nazis on the Jews of Germany will be taken from tortured men, frightened women and degraded children. In sorrow we must admit that.

Second, until help of governments is available, millions for food, shelter, clothing, medicine, etc. for refugees, children, women and the aged.

Third, co-operation with large and longtime plans of democracies which offer aid.

Fourth, we must see to it that no refugee coming to America is a charge on our government or on our economy, but an asset for America's prosperity and democracy.

It can be done. Will you help? New plans must come, new means be found. Today we need for Joint Distribution Committee vast sums to do a decent job. They must be assisted so we can sleep in peace.

Remember, MILLIONS FOR HELP, NOT A CENT FOR TRIBUTE.

Sincerely Yours,

Rabbi Jonah B. Wise.

hierarchy is trying to not only control their religious thoughts and convictions but at the same time deprive them of their liberty of speech and thought, that would greatly hinder the efforts of the Roman Catholic hierarchy to get control of the government. . . . From these facts does it not look as if Mr. Roosevelt and the Roman Catholic hierarchy have some definite understanding?"

My answer then and my answer now is, "no." Despite Father Coughlin Catholics have no interest in controlling this government or the religious beliefs of others than those of their own faith. Of course I have no authority, although I hear Father Coughlin on Sundays, for this statement, but then some of my best friends are Catholics, and anybody that charges any of them with trying to control Roosevelt is more than ridiculous and silly.
